About Hyderabad

Hyderabad, city located along the banks of River Musi, is the largest city and capital of the India's State of Telangana. It is perched on a hilly terrain surrounded by beautiful artificial lakes, including the Hussain Sagar that predates the founding of the city. The city is home to some exotic flora and fauna and is one of the fastest growing cities getting greener every day. In fact, technology firms, including Microsoft and Oracle call Hyderabad 'Hi-tech City' home.

About the College

About the Seminar

The government (Central/State) has introduced several schemes that have not only helped the citizens improve their financial situations, but have also contributed to the country's economy. Democracy thrives in India today largely because, it has always existed in some form at the micro level even during the long feudal era. Though the country has made tremendous strides in many fields, the rural people are often living in poverty without basic facilities. The emphasis in some of the poverty alleviation programs for the rural poor is on self-help, gainful employment, food security and strengthening of infra-structure.

As a welfare state, India is committed to the development and welfare of its people. The main aim of India's welfare programs is to stabilize the population at a level consistent with the requirement of the national economy. Various policies and initiatives of the government have put the country on the threshold of a major qualitative and quantitative change in different sectors. Our seminar focuses on various welfare schemes launched by the government (State/Central) and their impact on economy. It gives an opportunity to academicians, professionals and research scholars in contributing their expertise on the topic.

Objectives of the Seminar

1. To provide an ideal platform for exchanging views on prospects and challenges of Government (Central/State) Welfare schemes.
2. To examine the role of Government (Central/State), Financial institutions and NGO's in promoting the welfare schemes.
3. To extend training facilities and support for all occupations on new avenues, where the standard of living among the individuals can be improvised.

Sub Themes

1. Public Welfare Schemes in Telangana.
2. Welfare programs for Women and Children
3. Social Welfare programs in India
4. Tribal Welfare Schemes
