

A Question to Answer

How do you react in the class room, when a tough question is posed, and you do not seem to be having a satisfactory answer?